It's shocking. It's sad and it's probably even a tad unfair. But it's football.

Sounds like there's a little celebrating in New Orleans tonight as general manager Mickey Loomis and coach Sean Payton gushed about what could turn out to be their most significant move in free agency.

Vilma got a five-year deal worth nearly $34 million.

Has a defending playoff team ever been in such a dire situation as the Kansas City Chiefs after two games?

This is the latest dose of horrible news for the Chiefs,create a football jersey, who have been beaten by a combined score of 89-10 in two games. In the final preseason game,champion basketball jersey,nfl cheap jerseys, promising tight end Tony Moeaki suffered a season-ending knee injury. Last week against Buffalo,nfl official jerseys,nba youth jerseys, safety Eric Berry was lost for the season with a knee injury.

ESPN's Adam Schefter is reporting that Kansas City star running back Jamaal Charles is likely out for the year with a torn ACL. He was hurt early in the Chiefs' 48-3 defeat at Detroit on Sunday.

Posted by ESPN.com's Pat Yasinskas

"We made re-signing Jonathan our top priority,nhl replica jersey,nike football jerseys, and this is an important first step as we prepare for the 2009 season,personalized nba jersey,nike football jersey builder," said Loomis. "Jonathan proved he could come back from his injury and play at a high level and we expect the same or better from him starting this season."

Charles,framing a sports jersey, Berry and Moeaki are three of the Chiefs' core players. This is just too much for this team to overcome. It is clear 2011 will simply not be the Chiefs' season after they were a surprise 10-game winner last season.

Three torn ACLs in three weeks? It's unthinkable.

"Jonathan is a true impact player on defense and one of our leaders,create your own baseball jersey," Payton said. "He is consistent,customize nike football jersey,sports jersey wholesale, he never comes off the field,nfl women s jersey,nike nfl combat uniforms,Buccaneers Nike NFL
